

Snow Delight Tea Light Ball - Winter and Christmas Lithophane

JemeFox

VIEW IN BROWSER

updated 31. 12. 2024 | published 31. 12. 2024

Summary

Snow delight lithophane ball with a tea light holder and an open lid/sky to illuminate the surroundings.

Household > Home Decor

Tags: light lamp lithophane christmas landscape ball snow winter christmasdecoration tealight lithophanelight globe teelicht lithophanelamp winterdecoration christmaslight teelight

Snow delight lithophane ball with a tea light holder. It features a snowy winter landscape with a frozen lake. In the design, I removed the sky from the lithophane to allow light to shine out of the ball into the room, creating a beautiful play of light. Inside, there is a recess for an electric tea light.

Creation:

This is my first model, and I learned a lot through experimenting with the various tools. For editing the starting image, I used the tool Affinity Photo 2. With it, I modeled the two Christmas trees into the image to create a smooth transition in the final lithophane. The initial lithophane was made using lithophanemaker.com, a free online tool for making lithophanes.

To learn more about 3D Printing lithophanes be sure to check out American Filament's "Beginner's Guide to Lithophanes" at <https://americanfilament.us/pages/beginners-guide-to-lithophanes>

After that, I further refined the ball using Nomad Sculpt. With Nomad Sculpt, I cut out the sky and integrated the base as well as the holder for the tea light into the model.

Printing:

For the print, I used the default settings in the slicer, and the model does not require supports. I used SUNLU Marble PLA as the filament to give the piece a beautiful, old, stone-like touch.

I look forward to your feedback and wish you lots of fun printing it! Happy to see your makes. Thank you :)

Model files

snow-delight-winter-ball-lithophane.stl

📄 Snow Delight Winter Ball Lithophane

snow-delight-winter-ball-lithophane.3mf

📄 Snow Delight Winter Ball Lithophane 3MF File

License ©

This work is licensed under a
Creative Commons \(4.0 International License\)

Attribution—Noncommercial—No Derivatives

- ✗ | Sharing without ATTRIBUTION
- ✗ | Remix Culture allowed
- ✗ | Commercial Use
- ✗ | Free Cultural Works

✖ | Meets Open Definition