This is designed for sugar cookie dough rolled to 1/4" thick. The words press into the dough to make it look like a candy conversation heart. It's a fairly thick-rimmed cutter which I find makes it sturdier for kids to use. You can easily change the text in Tinkercad, so make them as naughty or nice as you prefer.

If you should have trouble getting the top "v" to print (it gets quite thin at that point in the model) adjust your wall settings. I found increasing the wall line count to 3 and the horizontal expansion to 0.3 mm worked nicely.

This object was made in Tinkercad. Edit it online!
