This is my version of Rickert's Spaceship which is described as looking like a yacht from the book The Defender by Larissa Soehn. (The book is available on amazon and etsy)

This simple version has been modified from the original so that you can print it without the print pauses outlined in the original. The windows files are located in the original if you want to have a different color than the base material.

Printed without supports and without a brim (although I removed the bottom layer to improve bed adhesion).

The window files from the original will still work with this design if you are looking for some added accessories.
