My wife's beauty blender came in a poor plastic case, with gaps that let powder escape and cover the inside of drawers, bags etc. To keep everything clean and still allow the blender to be taken away while travelling I designed this case with a screw lid. It fits snugly and the lid keeps everything clean.

Fits anything up to 42mm diameter and 60mm high.
I suspect it'll work ok if you scale the body and lid the same.
