But I am guessing they fit for the "small" variant <https://www.prusaprinters.org/prints/50246-modular-hobby-paint-rack-small-straight> also. Just skip the middle piece.

The original rack is a very fine paint rack for vallejo paints. It bothered me that the tip of the vallejo bottles poke through the hole in the lowest row and are lifted up by the table.

With my feet attached (super glue), there is enough clearance for the bottom row bottles to hang in there like the rest of the bottles in the other rows.
