Saw a great design for a toy sword and decided to make it a little fancier.

Based loosely on the design from Ocarina of Time's Master Sword.

Requires one gallon paint stirring stick from your favorite paint store... I personally recommend Ace Hardware but I might be biased. We give them away free and they are still the 14" sticks which some places have started cutting down on to save 1/2 a penny.

Not quite a simple print, will require some supports.
