Just got the V35 and although I've got a case, it was a bit bulky.

Found this and noticed there wasn't a hole for the bottom mic and the top mic hole was slightly off. The LG V30 and V35 are almost identical but I only have the one so I couldn't say on the V30 if mine is still a little off but it should be close.

I widened the top mic and headphone jack holes and added the bottom mic hole. So far just the honeycomb but will see about the other two. Done.

Mine printed great (Sainsmart TPU). The sides tend to roll a little since they are a little slippery but it wraps enough that the corners hold it on very well.
