This is Krobus from the game Stardew Valley, a friendly shadow monster that lives in the sewers, my favorite character in the game.

I did 50% infill to give it some weight to stand up and stay up a little better, but I'd bet lower is fine.

I also saved a cutout of the eyes and mouth should you want to print those in a different color or paint them. I did not end up doing this as I liked how it looked through the open eyes and mouth, but included them as a separate STL in case anyone should want to try that.
