I went looking for the model shown in the back-to-school contest picture, and was disappointed to find that the files only seemed to work for Cura (ie, totally unprintable for me). So I went back to that remix's original and made my own version.

- Resized for pens & pencils
- Added a chonky belly to make the bottom flat and the interior larger
- Made the tail narrower
- Hollowed it out all the way down

No supports needed at this size but you may need them if you scale up.

I also added a simple friction-fit connector to join them together at the bottom - you may need to scale it slightly up or down depending on your tolerances to make it fit tightly.
