Cable holder in 3 different sizes: Large, medium and small.

They are designed to hold as many different types of cables as possible.

I improved this design a couple of times and am really happy with the result. The cables go in easily, but don't fall down when you accidently pull on them. They also don't get stuck.

The holders are mounted to a wall using nails. If you don't hammer those too tight, you can remove and reassemble the holders easily.
