If you're an adult and have played Fortnite you have most likely been shot by a better, younger, child and are down. You are calling for help from your teammate (your 10 year old cousin) who made you play with them. Celebrate your cousins victory with your limp body with your very own toy! Designed as the banana suit that some will recognize as a deep part of the lore of Fortnite or others, like myself, will see as the free Christmas skin they got to placate their cousin.

2 part print: 1 for eyes and 1 for the body.

Instructions:

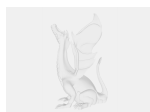

- Open up files and check the print temp settings depending on your filament these may need to be changed.
- Print body with supports.
- Print eyes (no supports needed).
- Print inner banana parts
- Print banana top
- You can add details on the body with paint here and not have to worry about getting paint on the eyes if you feel like it.
- Super glue eyes into the head, inner banana part to body, and finally banana top to the body. All these parts have clear cutouts so fitting them together should be easy.
- Attach a picture and leave a review!

Later dudes,
