Moneyclip that holds about 5 cards with window to expose drivers license or whatever top card you care to put in. I printed in ASA with supports. Cards slide out the front, push card down towards money with one finger and slide them out pressing through gap in frame as pictured. The clip is one big overhang, the bottom takes some sanding or filing to smooth over, luckily nobody but George Washington is going to see that side.

Edit, added a second moneyclip with a stronger offset clip. print this one vertically to layer lines are in the strongest direction. I haven't made a "left hand" variant yet since I don't know if anybody wants it, and its another thing to change if I update the design.
