A set of magnetic holders to attach your silicone baking mats to the fridge to save some kitchen space. Serves a dual purpose to keep the baking mats securely rolled up if you need to transport them. I've made two sizes: the large holds 6 magnets and the small 3. I needed the large size to hold my bigger mats as the paint on my fridge weakens the magnet's hold but if you have a stainless steel fridge you should be able to get away with the small holders for all size baking mats. I used some 5x18mm ceramic magnets and secured them with super glue.
