Summary

Enhance your tabletop baseball games with the lineup spinner and dugout/bullpen displays

Toys & Games > Board Games

The lineup spinner consists of the following models:

base.stl
clicker-firmer.stl display.stl knob.stl
rod.stl

I recommend printing the display model in two colors with the text in a color that contrasts with the main color.

Then you need to print the lineup model that matches the game you play. Contact me through Etsy if none of those models are suitable for your game. I can send you a custom model.

If you plan to use the lineup model suitable for History Maker Baseball, then you can use the knob-shorter model. If you want the spinner to be a bit easier to spin, you can try the clicker-softer model.

I print these models in PLA with a 0.3mm layer height and 15% infill. None of these models require supports.

I recommend adding some rubber feet to the bottom of the base, so it doesn't slide around when you spin it. The feet I use can be found via the link below, but any sort of feet should work.

If you want to use the step display for players not in the game, print two step-display.stl models. I've provided 8 different tabs. Contact me through Etsy, if there is a specific tab you want. I recommend printing the tabs in two colors with the text in a color that contrasts with the main color.
