Bring a touch of Valhalla to your home workshop, library, or living room with this highly detailed Norse-style shelf bracket.

The design combines traditional Celtic and Viking knotwork (influenced by historical art styles) with a stylized dragon or serpent head. It looks stunning when printed in metallic filaments (like bronze, brass, or copper) and post-processed with a dark wash to emphasize the deep details and give it an authentic, antique metal look.

Features:

- Aesthetics: Authentic-looking Norse/Celtic fantasy design.
- Strength: Designed with a solid diagonal arch structure, but please adjust your infill/perimeters depending on the load you plan to put on the shelf.

- Mounting: Includes standard counter-sunk screw holes for secure wall and shelf attachment.

Recommended Print Settings:

- Material: PLA/PETG (for decorative use), ABS/ASA or Tough PLA (for heavier loads).
- Infill: 25-40% (Gyroid recommended for strength).
- Perimeters (Wall lines): 4-5 layers for maximum structural integrity.
- Supports: May require some supports for the dragon head overhangs and intricate knotwork sections, depending on your printer's bridging capabilities.
