Bring the terrifying, monstrous features of the Distortus Rex (D-Rex) to your 3D printer with this articulated skeletal model. Designed with detailed bone structures and multiple points of articulation, this model lets you pose and display a menacing prehistoric-style skeleton on your shelf.

Key Features

- Dual Head Options: Includes two interchangeable head variants
- Articulation: Features multiple functional joints and moving parts across the jaw, neck and limbs.
- Detailed Bone Craftsmanship: Sculpted skeletal ribcage, vertebrae, and aggressive teeth that capture the distorted look of the D-Rex.

3D Printing Recommendations

- Layer Height: 0.16 mm or 0.2 mm recommended for clean joint tolerances and fine bone details.
- Infill: 15% – 20% (Gyroid or Cubic works best for structural strength).
- Supports: NONE
- Material: PLA or PETG (White or bone-white filament recommended for a classic fossil look).
- Assembly Note: When installing the head open the jaw and it should slid right on.
- Recommended to print this model at default scale.
