Meet Elara the Unicorn, a magical little Scrub Daddy Holder that brings sparkle and sweetness straight to your sink.

With her flowing sculpted mane, signature horn, rounded shape, and dreamy expression, Elara transforms your everyday Sponge into a charming countertop companion. The sponge fits securely in the top opening, keeping it upright, accessible, and neatly in place between uses.

A fully integrated drainage system is built into the design. Water flows through the internal channel and exits through Elara's mouth, helping reduce water buildup and allowing your sponge to ventilate more efficiently.

The model can safely be scaled up if desired. Downsizing is not recommended, as the internal dimensions are optimized to properly fit a standard Sponge sponge.

Important Printing Note

If you are not using the provided Bambu Studio file, set supports to “build plate only.”

Do not allow automatic supports everywhere, as supports may generate inside the internal drainage channel.
