I wanted to create something wonderful—something a little magical. And that’s how my Glowing Winter Village came to life!

Snow-covered cottages, tiny fir trees, and a winding road climb the hillside, creating a little winter world. With the lights on, the village fills with a warm glow, like a peaceful Christmas evening tucked away in the mountains.

Now,honesty about printing: if you’re not a fan of supports, this model might test your patience! But don’t be afraid of them. Supports gave me the freedom to create the snowy rooftops and details that make this village so special. There’s some cleanup involved, but seeing it light up makes the effort worthwhile. ❤

I hope this little village brings a bit of Christmas magic into your home, just as creating it did for me.
