The Cybermaiden is a half face mask that mixes a softly sculpted human face with cyberpunk armor plating. The nose, lips and chin are smooth and lifelike, while the cheeks and jaw carry panel lines, vents, a honeycomb detail and a circular module at the side. The contrast between the organic and the mechanical is what the whole design is built around.

Included in the profile is a version with and without holes, depending on whether you want it for display or actual use.

The first photo shows the raw print in plain light grey, where all the layered surface detail and panel cuts are visible. The second shows a painted version finished by hand. It has gold accents, brushed silver weathering across the armor, a hairline crack across the cheek and bold red lips. The print takes paint well, so you can go clean and glossy, battle worn, or anything in between.

It works as a cosplay piece, a costume prop or a display sculpture for a shelf or desk.
