

Double base for figures

Not much here

VIEW IN BROWSER

updated 2. 11. 2026 | published 2. 11. 2026

Summary

A base for two figures, or a four legged one

Tabletop Miniatures > Props & Terrains

Tags: dual base grass

This is a simple twin base suitable for two figures, or a quadruped like a horse.

Easily scaled in a slicer for whatever size you need.

I used a fuzzy skin modifier on the sides to give a ragged outline.

For the top surface, I used a Hilbert curve pattern, with the extrusion set to 170%, which gives a rough finish, something like grass. Different patterns and extrusion rates will change the top surface texture, there are many variables to play with.

The nice sheep model in the photo is:

https://www.printables.com/model/1321191-sheep-1

Model files

grass.stl

License

This work is licensed under a
Creative Commons (International License)

Public Domain

✔ | Sharing without ATTRIBUTION
✔ | Remix Culture allowed
✔ | Commercial Use
✔ | Free Cultural Works
✔ | Meets Open Definition