So I searched for a fitting wallmount for my Xbox One S controller and I couldn't find one which allows me to mount my controller, because I am using a battery pack which is slightly thicker than the original cover.

I am using the MoKo Battery Pack (included backpicture of my controller as reference).

The top of the mount grabs into the micro- USB port of the battery pack and snaps into place.

The mount has a hole for a 4mm countersunk screw.

If you have any questions feel free to ask me anything.

If I could help you with my design, consider supporting my caffeine addiction! :P
