My wife wanted a "Descendants" apple for my granddaughter's birthday cake (she just turned 9) and could not find anyone locally that would make the cake at a decent price. So, she asked me if I could design it and print it for her. How could I resist? I mean, when my wife is willing for me to spend time on the computer designing 3d things and then print it, it's a "win-win".....right?

Print Settings

Printer Brand:

Prusa

Printer:

i3 MK3

Rafts:

No

Supports:

No

Resolution:

0.15mm

Infill:

20%

Notes:

Used the standard PLA presents in Slic3r for the MK3.

Here are the colors and layer heights I used:

White

Red - 1.2

Gold - 2.2

Total print time was 35 minutes. I used Prusa's Color Print to set the layer heights.
