Remixed Rabak74's design and Ajcreighbaum's remix (thingiverse links below)

This version's main feature is to have stackable token containers that can be easily pulled out of the box and speed up game setup.

The wall widths in all modules have been normalized and the box bottoms have a smoother edge, which should counter "elephant foot" when printed.

The half cups stack. I originally planned to build covers (there's insets in the box to put on "snap" cover, but it fits snugly in the box when leaving the the punched out cardboard at the bottom of the box.

As per the original design, sleeved cards will fit. Tokens remain in their proper place even when giving the box a good shake.

Its been designed to be printed at 0.3 layer.

You'll need 4 copies of the small box and 1 copy of everything else for a full set.

I recommend support for the small boxes (to support the stackable bottoms), but it can also be printed without.
