This is Printed Choas. This (anti) hero uses other hero's to become a super hero. He Always wanted to be a super hero! but it al started with Tony stark not appreciating him the time he was at a convention. That is when he stole the gauntlet from tony start by trowing a calibration cube at his stand. Then saying he lost his calibration cube. Then when tony went under the table to get the cube for him. He took the gauntlet. This was the start of become a super hero! The start was made! he wanted more. He started with doing good for others. But soon, he wanted more! Thors real hammer wasnt a option... he couldnt lift it up... so, he printed one, that he then poured into alluminium. It WORKED! When he hit a bad guy with it, the teeth would come out with it!... Deadpool lost some of his limbs... but, as the will grow back on. He tought, that guy will not need it anymore! he took his mask, but didnt want all of it sow he cut them out. And left the rest! it was total Choas where he found deadpool! That was when he came up with his name... I am... Printed CHOAS!
