Soap flakes dispenser

There used to be this thing that dispensed flakes from a bar of soap when I was less old.

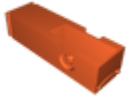

I've butchered a zest grater and created this useless but actually working contraption.

The grater thing is a bit narrow, so the soap has to be <20mm thick. Luckily the cheapest soap available at my local Lidl is slim enough to work.

I made this in Tinkercad so no fancy file formats are available, but you can make a copy and mess around yourself!
