Gidday Andrew, Thankyou for providing the back of the mask. I did my best and got all the way to revision 17 of my test trials before I was finally satisfied I'd done all I could do to get it to look remotely close to having been originally part of the whole helmet ;)
its not a million dollars, but I do think it looks very cool now. Do check the sizing suits your needs and I look forward to your build if and when you get round to it, Cheers Jace
