I couldn't find a decent pegboard mountable battery dispenser since most of them were split for easier printing and ended up being not very stable. fns720s dispensers looked like exactly what I was looking for except that they are meant to be screwed or glued to the wall, so I filled in the screw holes and added pegs fitting a skadis board. The pegs are arranged so that they can easily be supported by a minimal amount of support material.

Print standing up with supports for horizontal overhangs only.

Update: Added 18650 version
