Summary

replacement part for lost/broken LCD covers for the Panasonic-Q (gamecube).

Gadgets > Video Games

Intended for resin printing due to the small parts (and weird shape - wouldn't even know how to best support this as FDM model honestly).

I have added 2 variants;

- The regular one which you can paint with a window masked off, to closely resemble the original.
- "CutOut" version, which can be printed in colour, and using an acrylic sheet (or not) behind it to finish it off nicely.

First picture shows the original part this was made after.
