Wanted to play around and learn more about how to create 3D files. Since I'm a member of one of the coolest social media networks created specifically for gamers and tech enthusiasts alike, aka The Gaming Tribe (www.gamingtribe.com), I thought I would create something fun for other Gtribers to print and even paint if they shall wish. If you're on GTribe and want to show other members your print, please do so by tagging your post with #gtribehand.

The hand model is a remix of scampbell's "Creepy Reaching Hand" over at Thingiverse -- as soon as I saw it, I knew I wanted to remix it into something! Such a great model to start with.
