This is a card deck box intended for fantasy card games. It'll comfortably hold 100+ sleeved cards (so a MTG Command Deck, the Epic Card Game base set, or other similar card counts).

There are two versions of the lid; the two-part lid is ideal for printing upside down and saving on support material, while the single part should be printed right-side up with supports and is in one piece for ease of printing and assembly.

The front of the case has space for a logo; my initial upload includes a pentagram surrounded by little orbs somewhat evocative of the five MTG mana colors. EDIT: I've since added a "sword and shield" logo as well. I'm hoping to add others with time.

Post-Printing

The lid will close very tightly when first printed and may require some light sanding to open/close properly. Better too tight than too loose though!
