Summary

This is a remix where I have shortened the length and added fitting guides to hold the two parts together.

This is a remix where I have shortened the length and added fitting guides to hold the two parts together. I have also made it in two parts that slide together to make it a bit more robust.

Both parts printed in PETG at 0.2mm layer height.

Printed "Standing up" with supports and support blockers (To keep support out of the holes)

This remix is based on

24mm flashlight led railmount twisted remix (HDR50)
