Store monsters' ability cards, stat sheet, and standees together.

"Tray - Single" is designed for the monsters that have their own deck of ability cards. There's a version with pads to help keep the corners stuck to the bed, and a version without.

"Tray - Double" has two sections for standees - can be used for Imps and Shaman if you want to keep the standees separate.

"Tray - Triple" has three sections to suit Archers and Guards, it's taller than the other trays in order to fit all the standees. Each standee section is just big enough for a particular type of archer/guard, hopefully it's obvious which go where.

The base game needs 24 single trays, 2 double trays, and 2 triple trays for all the non-boss monsters.

There's two versions of each tray and lid: with and without corner pads. If you have problems with lifting try the versions with pads.
