With multiple kids having identical drink bottles, they tend to trade (and steal) eachothers drinks. Printing a bunch of these marker rings in various colors helps avoid that issue.

To install, slide it onto the cap before putting it in the bottle. The tolerances are really tiny, so you might have to press on two sides of the ring to slide it into position. The colored edge is small (due to space limitation in the target bottle), but it's visible enough.

Designed to be printed with a 0.4mm nozzle at 0.2mm layer height.

This model is not a product of HEMA, and I am not affiliated with HEMA in any way, shape or form. I just own a bunch of their bottles.

Designed for the HEMA drink bottle with straw.
