These two models can be combined to make as large or as small as a display area as you need. Both being based on the same hexagon base, they fit together perfectly. Print as many as you like and display all of your awesome prints and/or collectables! Two nails per piece is all you need to mount these to your wall. Also... no supports needed! The way the shelf version is oriented allows you to print this without the use of any supports. Enjoy!
