The uhura earpices I found so far just didnt hit the right spot, so I made one that fitted my tastes better. It derives a bit from the original design from TOS, but actually I like it better this way.

It prints in one piece without support, I used 15% infill (hex). The ear part fits to a common silicon earpiece thing from any mobile headset or music earbuds. I tried it with various ones and they all worked pretty good.

Just a litle bit of paint, and the next FEDCON can come.
Set phasers to fun!
