One Death Star + Two Star Destroyers = One ugly bow tie!

I needed something extra for Ugly Christmas Sweater Day at work and mashed these model together in Tinkercad. Worked out pretty well I think, at least for being made in just a few minutes! :D

There are two options:

one simple with almost no need for support, but printed in two parts that you glue together. Print the simple flat bow tie and the clip. I used a few supports under the overhangs on the command bridge of the Star Destroyers.

Or you can print the Full version that also include the underside of the Star Destroyers and the clip all in one. But here you need a lot more support material. It takes a lot more time, but adds a little more volume and "oomph" to the bow tie.

UPDATE! Also check out the make by DanielJosvai for a smart way to slice the full version to avoid a lot of support material. Great print!

The excellent clip is from ale98lauria's White Bowtie and clips on the top button on your shirt.

I'd love to see some photos of people wearing this! :)
