UNPlugged, by Bruce Wright

I intend to use my phone less often. I try to break the reflex of filling any spare moment by looking at my phone.

But that intention is hard to put into action.

So what if I moved the intention into an object. An intention object? Would that lead to action?

UNPlugged is an artwork designed to convert INTENTION into ACTION, by fashioning an object that carries the intention for me.

Print UNPlugged, and place it somewhere you'll notice it.

Then put your phone in its place and bring UNPlugged with you instead.

UNPLUGGED is the size of an iPhone 13 Pro. If there's interest, I can make an UNPlugged that fits your phone too, or go ahead and resize it in your slicing software.

Unplug and enjoy!
