I adjusted the original model to fit a cheap bottle light pad I got from a cheap dollar store.

A round E14 bulb will also fit through the hole at the bottom, a normal E14 candle style bulb will easily fit through.

I edited it with 3D Builder, because I didn't want to wait for Fusion 360 to load on my old crappy Laptop. Because i'm new to 3d Builder, I misaligned the bottom hole. But who cares in the end?

printed on a Artillery Hornet with 0.4 mm Layers in about 9 hrs.
