Antler inspired cloth hook with mounting holes on the back for mounting from behind with M5 screws. The screws are just as large for a M5 screw to cut its own thread into the plastic. I printed it succesfully with ASA and PLA lying on the back (side with holes) with some part cooling for the overhangs. Recommended settings are 0.4mm nozzle and line width, 0.2mm layer height and outer wall not too fast (<40mm) for the overhangs to print ok.
