Aloy on a rock (Horizon Zero Dawn). Captured screenshots of Aloy on a rock and used COLMAP to reconstruct the model.

This was pretty rough but I am just getting started with recreating models from screenshots. Hoping to get better at this and upload better versions. My witcher model worked out quite a bit better than this if you want to see this method improved.

I just like to have mini figurines on my desk so don't expect too much from this first attempt at photogrammetry.
