This model is an XCOM: The Board Game insert that fits both the base and expansion games into the base box. If you've owned this game before, you'd know that the cardboard insert that comes with the game is terrible and doesn't even fit the base game properly.

All pieces in the insert are held down by having the game board sit on top of everything. There is no lift resulting from using this insert.

This print doesn't require any supports.
