Summary

A simple stand for the Sony SRS-XB41 mobile speaker. I made this a long time ago, might as well upload it.

Printing it is pretty straightforward. It should have a high layer count, otherwise you might get holes inside of the bottom.

There is an integrated hatch in the back that can be cut out, if you need access to the connectors. I didn't want to use supports that high up.

The wall is pretty thin, but it's not a problem if you have proper layer bonding.
