Summary

I created these after purchasing my headset and realised that the plates on the ear cups were replaceable

I printed these with PLA+ with a 4mm nozzle and 0.2mm layer height. I used the default Cura profile for PLA. I advise using raft for adhesion as it will help with the support material removal.

You'll also need magnets from amazon, I used these ones:

These will press-fit, however you may want to secure them better with a little glue.
