

Batman: Under the Red Hood - Accessories

Michael Bradley

VIEW IN BROWSER

updated 15. 1. 2023 | published 15. 1. 2023

Summary

Here is a set of models I used for my Red Hood cosplay, based specifically on the animated version of Red Hood from...

Costumes & Accessories > Cosplay & Costumes in general

Tags: armor batman belt gauntlet redhood robin
superhero

Here is a set of models I used for my Red Hood cosplay, based specifically on the animated version of Red Hood from Batman: Under the Red Hood. This collection includes the silver armor plates for his boots and gloves, as well as several pieces for his belt. I imagine they could be re-purposed for various other characters as well.

I printed these without support material and just sanded the bottom corners smooth.

The belt pieces are designed to snugly slide over those standard airsoft style combat belts, which usually go for $10 or so on Amazon. I just slid them over the belt and put the belt's actual buckle behind my back. To attach the boot "buckles" or plates, I used Velcro, and to attach the glove armor, I used contact cement, like barge or Weldwood.

Disclaimer: These were made for my costume and may not work exactly for you.

This remix is based on

Batman: Under the Red Hood - Accessories

by bradleymtb

Model files

rh_bootall.stl

---

rh_beltmain.stl

---

rh_beltsecond.stl

---

rh_wrist.stl

---

rh_bootmiddle.stl

---

rh_bootbottom.stl

---

rh_boottop.stl

Find source .stl files on Thingiverse.com

License ©

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons \(4.0 International License\)

Attribution-NonCommercial

---

- ✗ | Sharing without ATTRIBUTION
- ✓ | Remix Culture allowed
- ✗ | Commercial Use
- ✗ | Free Cultural Works
- ✗ | Meets Open Definition