A palm tree for tabletop gaming and a nice addition to the tables vegetation, which can be used in different scenarios like desert, jungle, swamp, alien planets, ...

The palm tree consists ofthree parts, so it can be printed without any support and snapped together afterwards. (This can also be helpful if you'd like to print parts inmultiple colors.) There are several stl files, so you can print everything at once or combine things as you like.

Should print just fine without support. Hope you like it. Have fun!

If you print this one, feel free to post a make - I'd really like to see how it works out for you.

Paining

It already looks quite nice when printed in multiple colors. But painting it is also a good idea. :-) Brown, green and some dry brushing for highlighting the details will be enough.
