With this one I went with a slightly more darker and serious tone more in line with the original comics, compared to the 90's movie- and toy adaptations. I didn't have any of the particular Turtles in mind when sculpting this one, but the one on my shelf I'm definitely calling Rafael!

Print instructions

Comes in two parts. The main part, and the base part. Both should print without supports, but please use your own expertise to familiarity with your own printer to determine this for sure, since not all printers are alike :)
