Summary

My mother is getting arthritis and it is getting hard for her to open water bottles.

Household > Kitchen

My mother is getting arthritis and it is getting hard for her to open water bottles. So I found this print and added two wings for better opening experience.

I added the wings via OnShape since TinkerCad doesn't do well with Chamfers.

This model is at the same scale as the original. I needed to scale both up to 109% to fit the water bottles my mother uses. The original did well with the low profile caps, at 109% it works with the normal cap height ones.
