Summary

For the pet who is known to go out on their own adventures from time to time.

Does your dog have a tendency to wander, and may periodically need the kindness of a friend to help them find their way? If so, this is the perfect tag to help them get the help they need.

The text and outer edge are at different heights, allowing for the use of a color change in the slicer to help them stand out. There is also a subtle paw print embossed into the face of the tag. I've also uploaded a blank version in case you'd like to customize the text or use it as an ID tag (e.g. by using a text tool in the slicer, and optionally gluing one on the back of the other).
