To play this game, grab a stick for each player. Starting from 1 to the total number of players in the group including the King. So if you have 5 people in your group, you'll have one King chopstick and the rest should be numbered 1-9 depending on the number of players.

Collect the sticks and jumble them up. Make sure the writing on the sticks are concealed before letting the players pick a chopstick each.

The player that picked the stick with K written on it is designated as the King. They will call out a random number and issue the player a command. The player with the chosen number will have to accept the challenge. This can range from simple tasks like "Number 3, drink 2 shots", to more embarrassing ones like "Number 5, take off your socks".

After the dare is completed, the sticks will be collected and redistributed.
