A three piece sunflower cookie cutter. The three piece design allows you to achieve the desired impression depth in the middle part regardless of the thickness of the dough. Or you can cut out the center part completely and swap it between two different dough colors for two-color cookies. The seed pattern follows the actual phyllotactic spiral pattern :)

The writing says "The hubby liked it" in Czech - a famous phrase invented by deformed mothers on local mum forums and now used here in a slightly mocking way :)

Print instructions

The cutter makes cookies 7 cm in diameter and the wall thickness is 0.71 mm, which should exactly fit three perimeters when printed with a 0.25 mm nozzle. When printing with 0.4 mm nozzle, I recommend scaling up to 123% for 0.87 mm walls (2 perimeters) and 8.6 cm cookies. Print all parts flat on their back side without supports.
